

INSTRUCTIONS FOR LUNA KAUFMAN ART CONTEST

Eligibility: Participation in this contest is open to students in grades 5 –12.

Theme: Any original artwork interpreting aspects of the Holocaust.

Date: Works must be submitted by March 28, 2008. A juried exhibit of participants' work will be displayed during the week of the colloquium, May 11, 2008.

Categories: Submissions should be original. Student may submit work in any of the following media:

PAINTINGS

oil, acrylics, watercolors, temperas, casein

DRAWINGS

pencil, pen and ink and wash, craypas, crayon, colored pencil, charcoal or pastels (These must be fixed or covered with acetate)

PRINTS

linoleum cuts, woodcuts, etchings, lithographs, serigraphs, monotypes, or collotypes

MIXED MEDIA AND COLLAGE SCULPTURES

wood, metal, plaster, fired ceramic, clay, plastic, stone

Size: Two-dimensional work may not be larger than 36 inches including the matte for frame. All work must be simply framed or matted ready for hanging. Three-dimensional work may not be larger than 36 inches in any one direction and may not exceed 50 pounds in weight.

Forms: Each entry must have two individual entry forms attached, one to the front and one to the back. Completed release forms must accompany all the entries to allow for publication of the artwork in our future anthologies and for future use of the work by the Center.

Please note: Each school should do initial screening and submit its best work. Please realize that space limitations will preclude the exhibition of a school's total entries.

Delivery of Work: All work must be delivered to the Center for Holocaust Studies at Brookdale Community College by March 28, 2008. Please call to arrange delivery time.

Prizes: Artwork will be judged according to grade level groups:

Group I: Grades 5 and 6

Group III: Grades 9 and 10

Group II: Grades 7 and 8

Group IV: Grades 11 and 12

The Hy and Fanny Klein Award

$50 United States Savings Bonds will be awarded in each art category. All entrants will receive a certificate of participation in the contest.

Winning artwork donated to the Center will become part of the Center's permanent collection and is eligible for publication in our student anthology and display in Center art shows.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

For students interested in the Art Contest, the Center offers Art Workshops both on the Brookdale Community College Campus and at your school. The workshop is FREE as part of The Alan and Steven Rodman Workshop Program.
